

Newsletter 32 – May 2021

The European Honors Council (EHC) is happy to share an event to look forward to (and register for!), as well as an interesting reading:

- Conference World of Talent 2021 open for registration
- New JEHC article on 'Personal resources conducive to educational success'

Conference World of Talent 2021 open for registration

You can now register for the International Conference World of Talent 2021, which is held on June 16-18, online from Hanze UAS Groningen, the Netherlands. The goal of the conference is to strengthen honors education and research by exchanging knowledge drawn from research & practice. In a world hit by the COVID-19 pandemic, this is more urgent than ever. World of Talent 2021 provides a platform for dialogue with a diverse palette of keynotes, parallel sessions and creative events for new insights and inspiration. The European Honors Council is proud to be partner of this conference.

Registration (free!) is now open and contributions are still welcome. There are a few slots reserved for last minute additions, called 'wild card' sessions. The deadline for 'wild card' proposals is May 30th. In addition, posters for the virtual poster session are welcome.

All information and registration is at www.worldoftalent2021.org

New JEHC article on 'Personal resources conducive to educational success'

What personal resources do students use to reach success, in the demanding context of honors education? This is the main question that Jolise 't Mannetje and her co-authors answer in their new paper in the Journal of the European Honors Council (JEHC). Results suggest that honors students use different personal resources. Which resources? Read the article to find out!

Are you interested in publishing in JEHC yourself? Contributions are always welcome. Please find author instructions here.
